American River College Student

As a student at American River College, you've made a smart start in your educational career. Now you're ready to take your academics to the next level and go forth into the world of internships. Go beavers!

MOZILLA BADGE CRITERIA

This badge is awarded to students attending American River College. Community Colleges prepare students to complete a technical education or certificate program, transfer to a four-year university, and build the career skills they need to succeed.

mozilla OpenBadges

A digital badge is an online representation of a skill you've earned. Open Badges take that concept one step further, and allows you to verify your skills, interests and achievements through credible organizations. You can collect their badges in a single backpack, and display their skills and achievements on social networking profiles and job sites. Learn more >
